DOINGS OF THE CHURCH

[p.81]

At a chh. meeting, August 16, 1804, Samuel Graves was chosen deacon of this chh.

Nov. 29, 1804, He Accepted of the office.

Nov. 29, 1804

A complaint was brought before the chh. against Elijah Wait a member of this chh. charging him with the violation of the 7 & 9 commandments.

Dec. 6, 1804

At a meeting of the chh. in W<sup>ms</sup>burgh regularly held at the meeting house Dec. 6, 1804; sd. Elijah Wait, having been cited to appear, was present, and the complaint against him was publicly read in his hearing: & upon being asked, whether or not he was guilty of the crimes alleged against him, he replied in the negative. -- Then a trial was commenced; & evidence to support the charges was exhibited, & the sd. Elijah heard in his defense. -- After mature deliberation the chh.

Voted, that, in their opinion, a part of the complaint viz. of breaking the ninth commandment in uttering a falsehood, was supported. The other part of the comp. being not so clearly & fully proved & the chh. wishing to take it into further consideration,

Voted, to adjourn to meet again on Thursday 4 weeks fr. sd. 6th of Dec. then to attend to the other branch of the complaint.

Jan. 3, 1805

At the adjourned meeting of the chh. in W<sup>ms</sup>burgh regularly held at the meeting house Jany 3, 1805 the chh. again took into consideration the other branch of the complaint against sd. Elijah Wait, viz, respecting his breach of the 7th commandment. After hearing another witness & further deliberation

Voted, that in their opinion he was guilty of a violation of the seventh commandment in declaring that it was his int. to have criminal intercourse with E.D. and being seen with her the night immediately after.

At the same meeting, Deac. Samuel Graves was chosen a member of the standing chh. committee.

Also, Voted, that the standing chh. committee be requested to call upon Mr. Edward Taylor & convene with him respecting his present situation in the church,- Mr. Taylor had been complained of August 1798 for absenting himself from this meeting house & hearing & hearing unauthorized preachers, especially those of the universalist persuasion.-- The comm<sup>ee</sup> agreeably to request conversed with sd. Taylor. The sd. Taylor supposed that he had a right to attend other meetings & did not view his conduct in this respect to be criminal. He was therefore unwilling to do anything more than to promise that he would never again leave this chh. & go to hear other preachers.

Jan. 13, 1805, Lord's Day, the com<sup>tee</sup> reported to the chh. the result of their interview with sd. Taylor, wh. has just been mentioned.

The question being put, Whether the chh. considered what sd. Taylor had said, viz, that he would no more go to separate meetings, as satisfactory to them.

Voted, that this engagement was satisfactory.

March 3, 1805

Lord's day; the following was taken by an unanimous vote.

Whereas Elijah Wait was, at a meeting of the chh. regularly warned, & held Dec. 6, 1804, found guilty of breaking the ninth commandment in uttering a falsehood & whereas at a meeting of the chh. regularly warned & held Jan. 3, 1805, he was found guilty of violating the seventh commandment in declaring that it was his intention to have criminal intercourse with Eunice Davis & being seen with her in the night immediately after he made this declaration & in exposing his nakedness in an indecent manner, unprovoked, & whereas sd. Elijah has not made any satisfaction to the chh., but continues in this obstinacy,

Voted, that the chh. request their pastor to admonish him of the evil & danger of his offences & exhort him to repent; And in case the first admonition should not have the desired effect, they request the pastor to administer a second admonition warning him of his danger; And if sd. E. Wait still continues in his impenitence, they request the pastor to cut him off from his standing in the visible chh. of Christ in this place; They also request

[p.83] the pastor to cite him to attend when these acts shall be performed.

May 26 1805

Lord's day. Samuel Walcot, who had been excommunicated, made a confession of his sins for which he had been rejected. And the chh. voted to accept it & receive him to their fellowship.

June 2, 1805

First admonition administered to Mr. E. Wait; he not present.

Sept. 29, 1805 Lord's day.

Richard Carey recommended.

ciples & profession & injurious to the order & peace of the communion.

Previously to this time Wid<sup>w</sup> Smith & daughter Betsey &

[p.84] wife of Lieut. Hunt, two first, members of the baptist chh.
in Whatly & the other one member of late Dr. Stillman's baptist chh. in Boston, requested to commune with us.-- A few of the brethren plead for the admission of these to the table, on the ground, that the Nov. vote including the phrase, general principle, allowed some exceptions. But the body of the chh. viewed it as a principle or rule wh. knew no exception. At a subseqt. meetg. the question was discussed with a particular reference to the above named persons;

Page 25

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm blanket I had been under. I looked around and saw a few other people standing outside, some looking at their watches. The air was thick with the smell of exhaust and the sound of distant traffic. I took a deep breath and felt a slight sting in my lungs. I knew I was in for a long day.

Page 26

As I walked towards the building, I noticed a sign that read "Welcome to the City". It was a simple, weathered sign with the words in a bold, sans-serif font. I smiled at it and continued on my way. The building I was heading to was a large, multi-story structure with many windows. Some of the windows were dark, while others were lit up, showing the interior of the building. I felt a sense of anticipation as I approached the entrance.

Page 27

The receptionist at the desk greeted me with a friendly smile. She was a young woman with short, dark hair and a warm complexion. She asked me for my name and then directed me to the waiting area. I sat down on a bench and looked around. There were several other people sitting there, some looking bored, others looking nervous. I felt a bit out of place, but I tried to relax. The waiting time seemed to pass slowly.

Page 28

The doctor I was seeing was a middle-aged man with a friendly demeanor. He asked me about my symptoms and then performed a physical examination. He was thorough and professional, but also seemed to be a caring person. He explained the results of the examination to me and then prescribed some medication. I felt relieved to have the doctor's attention and to have my concerns addressed.

Page 29

After the doctor's appointment, I went to the pharmacy to get my medication. The pharmacist was a woman with short, blonde hair and a friendly smile. She asked me for my name and then handed me the medication. I thanked her and left the pharmacy. I felt a sense of accomplishment as I had successfully completed my errands.

Page 30

As I walked home, I thought about the day's events. I felt a bit tired, but also a bit more at ease. I had successfully navigated through the city's healthcare system and had received the help I needed. I smiled at the thought and continued on my way home.

Page 31

The next day, I went to the office to start my work. I felt a bit more energized than the day before. I had a lot of work to do, but I was determined to get it done. I sat at my desk and started working on the projects I had been assigned. The office was busy, but I found a quiet spot to work. I felt a sense of purpose as I worked on my tasks.

The day went by quickly, and I finished up my work. I felt a sense of accomplishment as I had successfully completed all of my tasks. I packed up my things and left the office. I felt a bit tired, but also a bit more at ease. I had successfully navigated through the city's healthcare system and had received the help I needed. I smiled at the thought and continued on my way home.

From this source it is estimated that the average physician in the United States, who is not a specialist, receives an average of $1000 per year for his services.

It is interesting to note that in the few cases where the physician is paid a salary, the salary is usually fixed by the hospital or the medical society. In the majority of cases, however, the physician is paid a fee for his services. This fee is usually based on the number of patients seen, the number of operations performed, and the number of consultations given. In some cases, the fee is based on the value of the services rendered. In other cases, the fee is based on the time spent by the physician. In still other cases, the fee is based on the results of the treatment. In all cases, the fee is usually paid in advance of the services rendered.

The following table shows the average fee for various services rendered by a physician in the United States.

I am a member; neglecting its meetings on the sabbath, & especially the communion season, even passing by the place where the church assembles; & having thereby, as I now feel, brot. dishonor on the cause of God, as well as my own walk & conversation, This is to shew, that I am sorry for the course I have taken; that I ask forgiveness of all my Brethren & sisters, & especially of God for the sin referred to; & I solemnly promise & engage, with divine aid, to walk hereafter with the [p.122] church in a tender & christian manner, & do what I can to wipe away this reproach."

The above Confession was prepared by a Committee of the church appointed for that purpose; & by another Committee was early conveyed to Mr. & Mrs. Bartlett respectively for the purpose above named.

They being requested, whether they signed the confession or not, to return the same to myself, at the expiration of 10 days; I hereby certify, that each copy of the confession was duly returned, & neither the name of Mr. nor Mrs. Bartlett was appended thereunto. In com-

[p.123] pliance therefore with the vote of the church, however painful the information, it is our duty to say on this occasion, that they were accordingly, & are either of them, at this time excommunicated from this church.
